

Thank you

Mr. Ross and Rev. Williams invited us to come and see the traditional Turks and Caicos sloop that they are building. The Grade 3 and 4 class wrote these comments:

It was interesting to learn about the history of sloop building in the TCI.

I think that it is good that you are teaching other people about sloop building in the Turks and Caicos.

I was surprised when you said that only three people are making sloops in North Caicos today. I hope when I grow up I can help to save the tradition.

I'm sad that not a lot of people are building sloops these days. I'm glad that you are trying to save the tradition.

Thank you for spending the time to tell us about your sloop.

I really enjoyed looking at the sloop. It was very interesting.

Thank you for giving us your time to show us the sloop you're building.

We really appreciated you answering all of our questions.

I hope we can come again. You really inspired me. I hope in the future there will still be sloops.

It was fun listening to the interesting facts. I hope you get on well with building your sloop.

I think it is amazing that you started building boats when you were a child.

Thanks for letting us see your boat.

Thank you very much Mr. Ross and Reverend Williams for inviting us to see the sloop boat.

I was glad to see the sloop. It looked very cool. I hope I can come and see the boat again. Thank you for answering our questions and telling us about the sloop.
